

I would like to express my concerns on the matter of the Do Not Call List. I think that it should not be changed to suit the telemarketers. They are not the ones that have to deal with the late calls and the unwanted calls on the weekends when your trying to rest on the only days you have off from work. Getting calls early in the mornings or late in the nights are very annoying. Please do not make any changes to please the telemarketers, I know that most people have enough to deal with in their homes than wanting added aggravation of telemarketers.
